cal free service area, etc. In addition the service rendered at this time is not much above 50 per cent in efficiency as compared with pre-merger service.

"We would report further that it is impossible for your committee with the limited time at its disposal to go properly into the merits of the case; that the present financial condition of the telephone company, the management, the amount of general overhead, if any, charged to the local company, the method of banking the various improvement and extension charges, and other matters pertaining to management and accounting methods of the company are determining factors, and their proper investigation will require time and the effort of men trained in work of this kind.

"Your committee would, therefore, recommend that this chamber employ an attorney and an expert accountant to represent the people of Fairmont, and that they be directed to gather such information as may be available, in addition to that already gathered by your committee, and that the said attorney and accountant be directed to appear at Charleston on September 10, for the hearing before the public service commission, and to there make such a protest against the proposed increase in rates as they may think advisable; to ask that an adjournment be had and a hearing set to be held in Fairmont far enough in the future to permit a full investigation of the companies' affairs. That, in the event an adjournment is granted, the said attorney and accountant proceed to make an exhaustive investigation and study of the claims of financial losses made by the telephone company, as they relate to capitalization, management charges, per cent of general overhead charged the local company, the division of revenue and inter-company business and their system or method of handling improvements, extensions up-keep and depreciation as they may affect invested capital and earnings as well as any other items bearing on the matter in hand.

"Your committee appreciates the fact that the above constitutes an expensive program. We realize also that the large increase asked by the telephone company means a serious burden added to an already heavily burdened people and should not be permitted unless absolutely necessary to the life and usefulness of the telephone service, which we look upon as indispensable in the business and social life of our people, and the above plan is, in our opinion, the best way to determine the actual facts in the matter. We would suggest, however, that an effort be made to enlist the support of the Business Men's Association, Rotary Club and other civic organizations of Fairmont as well as other cities and towns in the state."

Included in the committee's report was a schedule of rates of Anderson and Patoka, Indiana, cities in about the same class as Fairmont. The rates in Indiana cities were far more reasonable. The committee also had in its report a number of newspaper clippings and other data on the subject.

COAL LOADING

cars; Ohio points, nine cars; miscellaneous points, 12 cars. A car of coal was loaded yesterday by a wagon mine. Four unconsolidated cars bobbed up on the division yesterday.

Railroad Fuel. Railroad fuel loaded on the B. & O. yesterday totaled 294 cars. Shipments as a whole kept up well this week.

The B. & O. secured its lowest shipment for the week, exclusive of Monday, yesterday at 108 cars. As a whole the B. & O. shipments are big and steady, showing that the system needs the fuel. Cumberland Valley shipments reached the 24 mark yesterday, while Lehigh Valley dropped greatly. New York, New Haven & Hartford jumped to the 71 mark yesterday, while New York Central is firm. P. & R. shipments slumped yesterday, but Washington & Southern was nine cars, which is much heavier in proportion, as most of the time it was even a car or less.

The weekly total for railroad fuel will unquestionably run almost 1,300 cars, which is exclusive of the holiday. This indicates generally that railroads are in need of coal, many of which, and especially New England roads, are storing up coal for the winter when snow interferes with all-rail traffic from the east.

Home from Baltimore. John A. Clark, Jr., will return tonight from a trip to Baltimore and Cumberland, Md.

Coal Movement. Coal movement east of Grafton yesterday was favorable, according to B. & O. officials. The total number of loads of all kinds of freight drawn was 1,266, of which a large portion was coal.

While coal loads are starting to choke up the Fairmont yards, the situation has not as yet got beyond the control of the railroad.

On Wednesday there were 440 cars of coal drawn over the M. R. branch of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

United Mine Workers. Nick Aiell, district board member, is in Hutchinson today.

John Custalick, district organizer, today is in the Clarksburg field.

Ira Marks, district board member, is off for the Flemington fields today.

Nick Aiell, district board member, will address a meeting of the United Mine Workers at Morgantown on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock.

The Kanawha Coaleries company, Charleston, will soon begin operations at its new plant in Kanawha county.

Railroad men agree that a car shortage exists and that it will be worse this fall says C. J. Fletcher, secretary of the Knox County Operators' Association of Illinois.

Mines of Southern Ohio are losing more than 50,000 tons of coal weekly because of car shortage.
